Title : The State

Lyrics :

Let me ask you a question who was it you voted for? why did you bother voting at all is what i ask next same man different banner, different suit same crime democracy you say then show me your democratic system

Show me your creed, so me your pledge of humanity you cant find it you say, well where is it i ask its seems as if it was lost in the sands of time or maybe it was never instated maybe you forgot

The term democratic is one used very losely its thrown around like a childhood toy from yesteryear its a system for the people by the people so explain to me mr politician why you decide my fate

How has it made our lives better in the past and present class difference still exists, crime, drugs, religion, poverty, greed, killing, raping, prostitution these are the marvelous creations of your system

Without you we would not have such luxories so i say thankyou to the state for giving us meaning

A reason for depression and thoughts of suicide a reason for world war and the death of innocents a reason for stealing so they can get their next hit a reasing for mental insanity but you dont give a shit

The state, a murderer that will never be put on trial we must now act for our selves, we are the jury we decide their fate, not the other way round it is our lives and our minds, lets control them
