Title : all these lies

Lyrics :

intro

I don't know why I bother I don't know why I try. Everything I do it just seems like a lie .All this depression in my life makes me really sad but now I'm starting to realise its making me go mad.

second

All these lies you just don't care you think life's so unfair. You don't give a shit about me so why don't you just let me be.

stop

You never supported me I wish you could only see. That My life is so cruel I wish I didn't drop out school. All these lies they really hurt why did you have to treat me like dirt. You always have to have your way I feel like my life is a delay!

break down

If only you could see I feel like I'm not supposed to be! I see this knife in front of me just wait till you see me bleed. I see my life flash before my eyes then again its just all lies its just all lies its just all lies its just all lies its just all lies!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
