Title : Red tape

Lyrics :

Blood on your hand are you satisfied?

you believe wrong your senseless anger where was the reason of your behaviour remember that you could be next another unmarked grave made by you who gave you right to judge?

scream of death lying on the floor but how could you understand will you sleep better tonight when you tell yourself he wasn't like you Do you feel better if it wasn't you who felt on the ground in pain if you see the sense of life in fighting other races because of their skin or religion then your soul is lost flowers armed fear unknown

shadows behind

cure the roots

flower dying

sunset done

cold above me

snow coming

if you believe in something like upperclass you have much to learn to call yourself a human
