Title : City Sleeps in flames

Lyrics :

The empire will fall like they planned on can we even last through the night?
We watch as the sky scrapers crumble under the burning blue sky,
THAT BLINDS OUR EYES!

THIS IS OUR LAST CHANCE, to make things right
A WORLD LOST FOREVER
tonight, tonight, tonight, TONIGHT

We'll try to find a place to sleep, it's going on days, THAT WE'VE BEEN AWAKE A sadness that i've never seen I said your name, and you, looked the other way because these are my last words and this is my last breath i'd give you everything if there was something left

and i will live with my regrets I'd give you everything
if there was something LEFT!

The disconnecting count of days of fading away, the lives that we made Tear drops will spill, from your blue eyes intentions were wrong, i apologize The empire is falling like they planned on and we lost it all The city sleeps in flames lost.. time.. everything's gonna be fine. Right? everything's gonna be fine. Right? everything's gonna be fine. RIGHT?

I CAN'T FIND A WAY TO LIVE IN THIS LIFE!

can we even last through the night
we watch as the sky scrapers crumble
under the burning blue sky,
THAT BLINDS OUR EYES!

because these are my last words

i'd give you everything
if there was something left

because these are my last words
but i've got nothing left
