Title : Twist of lime

Lyrics :

i turn my head and close my eyes i've been waiting for this day all my life now it's finally here and i can't wait for it to end long lost thoughts of dreams come through i've been longing for an answer just like you obviously good intentions doesn't allways make it right breathe, all i do is breathe what the hell am i doing here?

consequence is blurry, consequence unclear am i just wasting my time?
still waiting for my prime
all fucked up, with a little twist of lime i turn my head towards the raising sun whats done is done and what is not done remains undone i have wasted all my time but i don't really care disfigured figures so called art no fucking logic wanna tear it all apart am i not just, am i not fair beathe, all i do is breathe

what the hell am i doing here?
am i just wasting my time?
all fucked up, with a little twist of lime

all the stories sounds the same, to me
