Yesterday i woke up with a voice inside my mind. It told me just to stay in bed, it told me iâ€™d be fine. Said if i really want to see this through, to make it out and be with you. That iâ€™d have to live it all inside, sit it out, or find a place to hide.

Everything iâ€™ve ever said - About your eyes, your hair, the way i care - Everything iâ€™ve said to you is nothing less, i tell the truth. Someday soon iâ€™ll realize i want the truth, to see you smile. It something that you had to do, itâ€™s what you need, itâ€™s best for you.

Never thought that iâ€™d have to choose between a lie and a thought that i used to use. At the end of the start of the day, you know iâ€™ll be fine
