Breaking Me

I sit alone in my bedroom, (Feels like the walls are closing in)
I'm doing the best of my time (The mirror caught a glimpse)
When you picked up your bag and headed for the door
My heart was empty , And i couldn't cry no more
While you're carving a piece, Just take a look inside my head

How much you ever wish, I won't leave you like this
You can't change the way you are, By being someone else
I'll see through the faked new you, Whatever you do, You will always be the same

Here i am
My head on a plate
Take your piece
I hope you feel great

Just leave me here, Crying on the floor
Get out, Disappear, Nevermind mind the door
Your backstabbing ways has dried out my luck
I lie here empty with my ego all fucked up

Here i am
My head on a plate
Take your piece
And i hope you feel great
Here i am
My head on a plate
Take your piece
I hope you feel great
