Title : I Wish I Was Psychic

Lyrics :

my plan of action is to be a jerk but some way i know it wont work and no i cant tell the future but i have a feeling its not for sure but i am way too immature to be the one you come to town for and i love it when i get no recognition and i love it when you say im superstitious and i hate it when we go for walks and every single time we never talk and everything i do for you i meant it too

i think that im the only person who gets you ill be the one to stay beside you no matter what weve been through we talk about funny commercials during half asleep conversations and you spin my head in circles with your over the top exagerations
