Title : The Way We Were

Lyrics :

i want to be miserable without you if thats the only way i can be we were best friends, we were more but lately im not even me how long will this go on before it catches up when will we realize were not the only ones the world is slow behind me the well is dry were done if you were the light at the end of the tunnel i would run to you i would leave it all behind just because of the things you do the nights ive spent without you they were the longest nights ive leved you can push me away and they can hold me back but i can promise i wont give youre an itch that i cant scratch im a guitar with only five strings and your the sixth string i need im the one who holds you close your the one that pushes me away and im the one to take the blame
