Title : metal head

Lyrics :

METAL HEAD

Out from the hole flood your lies
The bullshit is rising so brown are your eyes
Not one lesson learned from your mistakes
From fingers burned and complete distaste

I don't believe my ears
Did you just say what I thought you said
(No-one would say what I thought you said)
I don't believe my ears
Now my eyes are seeing red

Caught you out once too many times
Slipping down further like quick slime
You're at the stage of being better off dead
But you're too dumb to notice you metal head

Shrinking while your surroundings grow
You don't see it but you know I know
Walls around you start to erode
When the fuse burns down it will all explode
