Title : burry me with no name

Lyrics :

i'm writing a leter to say that i'm leaving you , leaving you it's always been hard to maintain no one belived when they needed too sometimes somethings are better off alone and when the seasons change the sun may shine, but the darkness will remain and should my reasons change they'll burry me with no name

I still have the picture you framed there's only memory's memories I'm finding it hard to explain I don't feel anything, anything

I was reminded of you today So I've written this out to say that sometimes somethings are better off alone

and when the seasons change
