Lyrics :

black is my heart and red is my vision. i want something more so dont leave me wishen that i could be yours.
and that is my mission it istobe yours. to open the doors to your heart and to rip mine apart so no one may enter again my friend my time is up. now i must jump. while slitting my wrists i think of this moment of ours we have lived. the wonder the beauty the pain we all hide. no matter how much you make me bleed, i will not bow and i will not plead for your forgiveness, your unwanted love. i chewed out your heart and gave it to the doves out on mainstreet. i hope that we meet again in hell but till then.... oh well.
